BRITANNIA.

—Mrs. Herman E. Dick is still dangerously sick at her home in the fourth ward.

A handsome cottage is being built by Col. W. S. Britton, it being located on Terrace street, first ward.

—William Keno, clerk in Blanchett & Sheldon's, is very sick, although his condition is not considered dangerous.

—Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Judd pleasantly entertained a party of intimate friends at their home on North Elm street, second ward, last evening.

—The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Scott, of the fourth ward, died last night. The remains were taken to Sharon for interment.

—William McCrimmon, another of the Beloit Salvation Army rioters, came up in the municipal court to-day and pleaded guilty. Sentence was deferred.

—Green Bay Gazette: Rev. Thomas Clithero, the now pastor of the Fort Howard M. L. church, has arrived, and got settled with his family at the parsonage.

—The following notice of a ball game has been handed in for publication: "The red, white and blue beat in a game of ball today nine at nine o'clock this morning in a pasture of Zink's by a score of 25-3 in favor of the red, whites, and blues."

—Mr. L. A. Torrence will meet young gentlemen for free vocal instruction at Dr. C. T. Peirce's office, on Saturday evening, October 16th, instead of tonight. This change is caused by the death of Mr. Torrence's uncle, which calls him to Chicago to-day.

—Wm. Smith and Chas. E. Peirce have formed a partnership in the profession of law, and will locate at the office formerly occupied by Sale & Hester, over the post office. Both gentlemen are popular practitioners in the courts of this state, possess great legal abilities, and there is no reason to doubt the success of the new law firm.

—Fond du Lac Commonwealth:—Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Woodruff, of Janesville, are in Fond du Lac on their wedding trip, guests at the residence of Mrs. Swift. The groom is a son of Henry S. Woodruff, who is well known here, and who is related to several Fond du Lac families. It is probable the guests will remain in the city over Sunday.

—The office of Langdon & Co., the firm that has the contract for grading the Evansville cut off, has been removed to this city. This removal takes most of the men from that end of the line, as most of the grading is now finished excepting that on the land around Three Mile Creek and on a short stretch inside of the city limits.

—The refuse and sweepings thrown into the race from stores on the north side of Milwaukee street have become such a nuisance that to-day the electric light company had a high board fence put up in the rear of all the stores from River street to the postoffice. This will keep rubbish from being thrown into the water and will have a tendency to increase the power.

—This novel snide comes from the other side of the Atlantic: An old tinsmith in London, named Goodman, saturated his clothing and hair with benzoline oil. Having obtained a box of matches and a rope, with which he tied his legs together, he placed himself in a kneeling position, filled his mouth with oil, lighted one of the tinsmiths, and went off in a magnificent blaze.

—A dispatch from Fond du Lac, says: Warren Whitson, residing between this city and Waupun, has lost several head of cattle from what he feared was pleuropneumonia. To-day the state veterinarian visited his place, and after examining the sick stock, decided that there were no signs of pleuropneumonia, although he could not tell what the disease was.

—The Knights of Labor party at the Beloit army last evening, was very well attended. The sturdy workmen and those from the highest circles of society mingled in the whirl until far into the night. A delicious supper was served at Golling's soon after midnight, many of the dancers taking advantage of this opportunity to refresh the inner man. In all probability one hundred and fifty couples were present, and everything passed off very pleasantly.

—Rev. Lyman Abbott will deliver another of his popular lectures at Goodwin's opera house, Beloit, on Tuesday evening, October 12th. His subject will be "The Industrial Revolution." Janesville people desiring to hear this noted lecturer can leave this city on the C. & N. W. railroad at 7:30 p. m. and return, leaving Beloit at 10:15 p. m. Admission 50 cents. Reserved seats without extra charge now on sale at Peirce and Benson's drug store. This is the first number of the Y. M. C. A. lecture course.

—Green Bay Gazette: Another test was made at the artesian well yesterday down a depth of 101 feet. The gauge was attached to a four-inch pipe, and showed a pressure of 44 pounds. This pressure, at 2-1/2 feet to the pound, would raise the water to a height of about 97 feet. The hole is now reamed out for a distance of 50 feet in the rock to eight inches in diameter. Below this point for the rest of the 325 feet, the hole will be 6 1/2 inches.

—Evansville, Ind.:—We are told that an epidemic of disease is prevailing more or less with home in the neighborhood that in many instances has proved fatal. The animal becomes dull and inclined to sleep, refuses food but drinks a great deal of water. One man who has lost several hogs cut one open and found everything apparently healthy but his bladder, which was considerably inflamed and filled with bloody water. Several neighbors have hogs that are afflicted in this way. We notice that some farmers

ANALYZING THE BAKING POWDER.

Under the direction of the New York State Board of Health, eighty-four different kinds of baking powders, embracing all the brands that could be found for sale in the state, were submitted to examination and analysis by Prof. C. F. Chandler, a member of the state board and president of the New York city Board of Health, assisted by Prof. Edward G. Love, the well known United States government chemist.

The official report shows that a large number of the powders examined were found to contain alum or lime; many of them to such an extent as to render them seriously objectionable for use in the preparation of human food.

Alum was found in twenty-nine samples. This alum is employed in baking powders to cheapen their cost. The presence of lime is attributed to the impure cream of tartar of commerce used in their manufacture. Such cream of tartar was also analyzed, and found to contain lime and other impurities, in some cases to the extent of 10 per cent of their entire weight.

All the baking powders of the market, with the single exception of "Royal" (which is made of cream of tartar and phosphate powders, which were long since discarded as unsafe or inefficient by prudent housekeepers) are made from the impure cream of tartar of commerce, and consequently contain lime to a considerable extent.

The only baking powder yet found by chemical analysis to be entirely free from lime and absolutely pure is the "Royal." This perfect purity results from the exclusive use of cream of tartar, specially refined and purified, and from the fact that this brand of powder is made in a factory which totally removes the tartrate of lime and other impurities. The cost of this chemically pure cream of tartar is much greater than any other, and on account of this greater cost is used in no baking powder but the "Royal."

Prof. Love, who made the analysis of baking powders for the New York State Board of Health, as well as for the government says of the purity and wholesomeness of "Royal":

"I have tasted a package of Royal Baking Powder, which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of purity, and does not contain alum or phosphate or any injurious substance."

E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

UNCLAIMED MESSAGES.

Some of the Mail that Goes Astray.

Many people wonder where the letters advertised as "unclaimed" go.

Every week the list of fifty or sixty new names appears and the old one drops out.

They were talking about it inside the postoffice this morning, as one of the clerks was running busily through a bundle of letters. "Who sends them all?" inquired the reporter as he saw another pile being tied up for a trip to Uncle Sam's agents at Washington.

"Everyone," was the laconic answer of the clerk. "A good many are for traveling men. They expect to be along here and to get them at the general delivery."

Some times the letter lays over one or two trunks or is sent the wrong way and doesn't get here until a day or two after the man has left. Perhaps it's misdirected and then the chances for his ever getting it are small. If the firm writes to him there is a return card on the envelope, but if any of his family write there isn't and we have no clue. But I guess most of them are directed to people around on the outside of the county. They lay here two weeks, then we put them on the unclaimed list and after that come the dead letter office. (Those two kinds make up most of every list. How many are claimed? Well, a fair average would be about one half.)

Symptoms of Reform.

The Recorder, in its last issue, is all broke up over a little squib which appeared in last evening's Gazette, suggesting that that democratic journal should symptoms of reform in adopting the third party prohibition movement. The Gazette is accused of jealousy by our contemporary, which appears to exaggerate a great deal of satisfaction in harping about their 1500 circulation, and their popularity in general.

The Gazette has not found it necessary to publish any retorted statements in regard to circulation. It is a well known fact that the residences and business places in Janesville all told numbers less than two thousand. The Gazette is found in a large majority of the homes where a local daily paper is read, and the management fully appreciate the support so generously tendered. If the Recorder with its suburban patronage is so well satisfied, mutual congratulations are in order.

It is just possible that the abuse of Governor Bank and the vain sympathy for the agrarians which is now and then apparent, coupled with the third party department, recently added, may result in revolutionizing the town and secure to the over sensitive sheet a monopoly of the newspaper business.

The Gazette will watch with interest for any symptoms of this nature, and endeavor to stand from under, when the revolution occurs. A laudable ambition prompts us to add that the Gazette will endeavor to survive until after the jubilee in November.

"There's much diversity of thought here," said a citizen, "I wonder how the Recorder would like to have the Recorder and the Recorder would like to have the Recorder and the Recorder would like to have the Recorder."

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 43 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with south wind.

At one o'clock p. m. the register was 33 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy, with south wind. For corresponding towns one year ago the register was 36 and 61 degrees above zero.

Save Your Money.

Mills Bros. & Co. have secured the agency for the Langens Regenerative Gas Lamp, now being generally used in the larger cities, and invite all business men and others to call any evening and see one of said lamps in operation. It is attached to a separate gas meter, showing the actual consumption of gas per hour, and is warranted to give more and better light for the amount of gas consumed than any burner or burner of the same capacity, and at less than half the cost. Don't say humbug! but come and see it.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

Giving the Time and Places Where Divine Services Will Be Held on Sunday.

For many generations it was thought that God could be worshipped in one place alone. Salvation seemed to be confined to the Jews; and when the Ark of the Covenant and the high priest, and the altar, and all the symbols were there, and there only, would God meet man. Thither "the tribes of the Lord went up," and when banished from that place the devout Jew worshipped "toward the temple." So Solomon prayed at the dedication of the temple. So Daniel, in captivity in Babylon, threw open his window and "prayed towards Jerusalem." "I will worship toward thy holy temple." In the temple the great God dwelt in the "holiness of holiness" and only there would he receive the prayers of men. Later in the history of the Jewish synagogue worship became common. This gradually took the place of the temple service. At last Jesus came, and announced that the whole system of temple service was passing away. "The hour was coming," he said, "when the mountain of Sanna would be as holy as Mount Zion, the steps of Russia, and the forests and prairie of our own dear country, as sacred as the land of Palestine; where neither in one place more than another, but in all places God would be worshipped. There is no temple service now, for there is no priest to minister at any earthly altar. Jesus, the last priest, has entered the Holy of Holies, and intercedes for the world. The service of the synagogue remains. The synagogue is the church. Here the word of life is opened and taught. "Where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them." That is my church, my holy mountain, in the midst of the hearts of my praying people. "To all that in every place call upon the name of Jesus Christ our Lord."
